SiteMinder

SiteMinder is a leading cloud channel management service for online hotel distribution. Standard ERP's integration with SiteMinder provides a smooth and easy process for online room reservation, inventory update and rate management for all major hotel booking sites in one place.

Standard ERP's integration provides a direct two-way connection with more than 300 of the world's top hotel booking channels. This integration allows you to reduce manual channel management with fast and accurate automation.

Whether you're using Expedia, Booking.com, Orbitz, or any of the hundreds of reservation sites, the status of each room is updated with real-time availability. Channel management is made easy using the dashboard for an instant overview of room status and sales performance. This data can then be broken down channel by channel to evaluate which channels are delivering the most revenue for your hotel.
